Violent storms come up quite suddenly and all yachting is extremely dangerous.

ART AND MUSIC.

Berkeley is rapidly developing into a center of art and music. Los Angeles would like the honor, but the college town in a State always corries ley has the beautiful Greek Theater, one of the finest out-of-door theaters in the world. Much preparation is going on for the symphony concerts, which scored such an immense social and riusical success last year. Rehearsals were undertaken last year in fear and trembling lest there should be no audiences to hear the beautiful But California develops a musical and artistic people, and the symphony concerts succeeded far beyond the wildest dreams. So there is great heart in the preparations for the coming season. It is something to be sure of success beforehand.

STORY.

It is always pleasant to read of the success of the Californian anywhere

Among the most successful of liketern writers is Kate Douglas Wiggin whose latest book, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," proved a perfect bonanza for its talented author. > The old family home was formerly on Oak street, a most delightful home in the midst of spacious and very beautiful grounds. Here was one of the finest libraries in the State, and here were gems of art and sculpture.

> Everywhere was the atmosphere of culture and refinement, and the element in it also of true-hearted hospitality. Many happy hours have been passed in the Bacon-Soule home. As is usual in all growing cities, business pushes into the residence districts, and old time families go farther afield. So in due time, the cld Bacon residence was given up and the new home planned on the hill.

> It has been named "Thorkil," and has one of the most commanding positions on the hills, with a magnificent hill view.

This is the first large entertainment that has been given in the new home and it is a most happy augury that it should be given as a welcome to the sweet bride of Mr. Beach Soule. The latter has grown up here, and has hundreds of friends, who are interested in his welfare, and who will be glad to personally offer congratubride.

The circle of friends is such a large one, that the reception so happly planned that it will be one of the most brilliant social dates of the winter.

It bids fair to be most enjoyable as well, for both Mrs. Scule and Miss Bacon are very cordial, cultured women, sincere to a degree, knowing well how to extend a cordial welcome to their # Oakland's Growth and Opportunity. Fight It Out with Magee.

Oakland's growth continues phenomenal. Nothing like it has ever before occurred here. The sound of the carpenter's saw and hammer is to be heard in all directions. Evidences of expansion are to be seen on every hand. New industries are multiplying; old one are increasing their facilities and capacity. Business is wonderfully brisk. What with the numerous freighting teams congesting their roadways and the dense crowds of busy people jostling one another on their sidewalks, the main thoroughfares have a metropolitan aspect. They bear, in fact, a strong resemblance now to what Market and Kearny streets were in San Francisco before the in the editorial above referred to, and I know you will be glad to fire. Most of the retail stores on the main thoroughfares are doing do this. With kind regards, I am cordially yours, nearly, if not quite as large, a business every day as was formerly done during the holiday season. Their aisles are jammed with eager customers. The Oakland of today is vastly different from the Oakland of six months ago. It has ceased to be the bed chamber that the number of people receiving relief in San Francisco has been of San Francisco; that slur on it no longer applies. And while it may continue indefinitely to afford pleasant refuge and shelter to weeks ago Mr. Walter Magee of the relief committee stated that many people whose business is exclusively established in the city over 40,000 persons were receiving relief at that time. across the bay, it is a foregone conclusion that Oakland will never upon hereafter as a wideawake, progressive and enterprising city, the front rank of the greater commercial communities of the Pacific

The population of Oakland has increased proportionately with its business development. There are no means of determining now timate the present number of inhabitants at 200,000. If the population has not reached that figure, it cannot possibly be very far from him in the shape of persons who make the truth look like "23." it. The dwelling resources of the city have been severely strained during the past four and one-half months to provide shelter for the new additions to its citizenship. And the demand for new residences and increased hotel accommodations is greater now than it has been at any time in the period mentioned, for there are no indications in sight of any diminution in the flow of population in this direction.

Oakland's growth and prosperity are not ephemeral. They are here to stay. Nor have they been produced by any forcing hothouse process. They are the result of a natural and healthy development, based upon the genuine merit of its favored situation which unexpected circumstances have simply enabled a great many people to discover recently. And the wiser heads among this class are profiting by the discovery, locating their businesses and their factories and workshops here and investing in real estate. Realty values have increased several hundred per cent in many parts of the city during the past six months. They have been stimulated by the brisk demand for suitable business and residence sites. An enormous amount of realty has changed hands of late, and the market was never more active than it is today. For all of the extraordinary advance which has recently taken place in land values, real estate is cheap in Oakland at the present moment, particularly in the business section, from the southern water-front to at least Twentieth street, wherein marvelous changes have been made in the last two or three months, and where others still more important are in progress of development. What we need now to make Oakland's condition perfect is to cultivate and put into active operation a broad policy of public improvements—such public improvements as are essential to make the city great and prosperous, as well as healthful and beautiful. It is the day of Oakland's opportunity to develop into the perfect city, and it will be criminal for its people to let it pass inconsiderately.

Platform's Unfortunate Omission.

The omission of Governor Pardee's name from the Santa Cruz platform was impolitic to say the least. It does an injustice to both Mr. Gillett and the Governor. Mr. Gillett, who is a manly, fair man, has always spoken in high terms of the Governor, and has mended by name and treated with all the consideration due a retiring executive who has served the State honorably and faithfully. It is true that the administration is endorsed in general terms, but the language is open to hostile criticism of the opposition, which will endcavor to distort it in a way to provoke antagonism against the Santa Cruz ticket. Unfortunately the wording of the platform was not too closely scrutinized in the haste to bring the convention to a close, else the plank commending the State administration would have more nearly reflected the wishes of Mr. Gillett and the gentlemen who managed his campaign, so far as the Governor is personally concerned. Mr. Gillett is now before the State as the choice of the Republican party for Governor, and as the party's representative it was his due that the platform should more explicitly express the cordial feelings he entertains for his late antagonist. No room should have been left for misconstruction. It is Mr. Gillett who must be voted for, not the platform-makers, and therefore his views should have been mandatory in a matter so personal. Governor Pardce and his friends can be relied on to give Mr. Gillett and his associates a hearty and ungrudging support. hence Governor Pardee's name should have appeared in the resolutions, as Mr. Gillett expressly desired. The matter is not specially important, save that it contains a suggestion which platform-makers would do well to heed in future, namely, the need of greater care in framing planks which the public mind is apt to construe in the light of past rivalries and antagonisms. A little reflection would have shown the committee that the endorsement of the State administration would be read in the light of the contest which ended at Santa Cruz, and which finds at its close Governor Pardee and his friends arrayed solidly and loyally at Mr. Gillett's back for the coming battle with the common enemy, just as Mr. Gillett and his friends would have been at Governor Pardee's back in case the result at Santa Cruz had been reversed. However, Mr. Gillett must be acquitted of responsibility for the unintentional discourtesy to the Governor, for it was his wish that Governor Fardee should be warmly and gracefully complimented by name for the excellent administration he has given the State.

The Hanford Sentinel explains that an editorial from THE TRIBUNE was by an oversight copied into that paper without credit, and offers an apology for the mischance. The explanation and apology were both unnecessary. We are well enough acquainted with the Sentinel to know that it does not steal editorials. and has sufficient brains on its staff to render it independent of shears and larceny. However, some of our interior contemporaries would do well to imitate the Sentinel's honesty, even if they lack the editorial ability displayed in its columns

EDITOR TRIBUNE: I notice in THE OAKLAND TRIB-UNE of September 4 an editorial criticising the statements made by the California Promotion Committee in its publicity work. The writer of this editorial evidently had not made proper investigations when he intimates that the committee is "misrepresenting" matters. It has been the policy of the California Promotion Committee, and it always will be its policy, not to give out anything that is not absolutely true, and any and every statement emanating from this committee can be substantiated.

I think it is only fair to ask you to rectify the statement made

RUFUS P. JENNINGS, Chairman.

Mr. Jennings is mistaken in regard to what THE TRIBUNE said. In the Promotion Committee's circular for July it is stated reduced from 225,000 the first week to less than 17,000. About two

Here are two radically conflicting statements, however, and the public is at liberty to take them for what they are worth. It is legitimate and not unfair or unfriendly to call attention to statements so at variance with each other. Mr. Jennings should not put it up to THE TRIBUNE; what the actual population is. He can't even trust a sure-thing. There is said to be honor among thieves, but, then, prizefighters are not thieves.

> Those who are superstitiously inclined will doubtless find food for the nourishment of their mental idiosyncracies in the coincidence of the destruction last Wednesday of the California Wine Association's large winery and cellars at Fresno and the famous Celser wine house at Bordeaux, France, from the same causes, namely, explosion and fire. The only difference in the two explosions was that the one in this State was due to the overheating of wine in the strong oven and the resultant generation of lightable gases there, while that which occurred at Bordeaux was traceable to the ignition of alcohol vapor produced by natural causes in one of the prime vats. But the losses incurred in both fires approximated the same amount, being estimated at from $300,000 to $400,000.

It will be a new departure presaging permanent industrial peace in which both interests will be benefited.

Now that the San Francisco Relief Corporation has decided to erect 6000 two and three-room cottages for the housing through the winter of the refuges at present quartered in the tented camps, with a provision for the final transfer of ownership to them next August, there is a reasonable prospect for a portion, at least, of the vast sum of money controlled by the corporation to be devoted to the uses for which it was designed by those who contributed it. never failed to frankly say that his administration has been a credit- There is no escape from the conviction that a large part of the fund able one. Whiskey and the Drug Habit

Nearly every day we hear something good about Orrine, the only guaranteed cure for the whiskey and beer habit. The other day a lady told us that a person in whom she is greatly interested has discentinued 'drinking since using Orrine. This treatment does not detain the user from work and is a simple remedy, easy to use and so sure to cure drunkfirds and stop the fearful craving for drinking, that we sell it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

Orrine is in two forms: No. 1, to be given secretly, and No. 2, for those who wish to be cured. Each form costs $1.00 and both are guaranteed. We would not recommend it, if we had not assured ourselves of its great value. Mail orders filled The Grrine Co., Washington, D. C., or Owl Drug Co., 13th and Broadway.

SAYS OIL KILLED FISH PRETENTIOUS

ALAMEDA, Sept. 3.—A. Daska, the captain of the dredger which it working in the Oakland estuary at the Webter street bridge, was arrested in Alameda yesterday on a charge of misdemeanor. The arrest was made by Deputy Fish Commissioner Peddlar, who claims that the captain allowed oil to run from the dredger into the estuary, killing a large amount of fish.

Daska denies the charge and states that the oil came from the Oakland side of the harbor. He said that the oil from the dredger did not escape in sufficient amount to kill the fish.

He was arraigned yesterday morning and the case set for the 17th of this month.

"ROUGH HOUSE."

President Wheeler, in the course of his remarks, commented on the "rough election. He says that he was unable to be present at the election, as he had more important engagements in San Francisco. He declared that the whole thing was not a matter of concern, as no university property had been destroyed, and no bones broken. He said, however, that such disorders would have to be done away with by the student body, and declared it was up to the senior class, which had pledged itself to exercise senior control to show why the trouble at the election had not been avoided.

After their engagement at Idora the entire party will visit the leading parks in the east and Europe.

YE LIBERTY PLAYHOUSE.

Mannager Bishop's offering at Ye Liberty Playhouse for the combing week commencing with a special "Admission Day" matine. Monday, will be the romantic drama "In the Palace of the King," dramatized from F. Marion Crewford's popular book. Miss Isabelle Fletcher, the new leading woman of Bishop's players, will have her first opportunity in a romantic leading role, and if the is as successful in this line as soo has proved horself to be in the lighter comedy roles Manager Bishop can be congratulated on having secured a most charming and versatile actress.

Miss Virginia Burton, who created such a flavorable impression as Heemia in "Midsummer Might's Dream!" and as Good Deeds in "Everyman," with Constance Crawley, has been specially engaged for a favorable impression as Hermia in "Missummer Night's Dream" and as Good Deeds in "Everyman," with Constance Crawley, has been specially engaged for this production.

The remaining parts will be played by Lillian Elllot, Madeline Maxwell, Frinklyn Underwood, Landers Stevens, George Friend, Maurice Stewart, George Webster and other popular members of this excellent organization. The costuming and scenery will be most elaborate and in every way the most enaborate and in every way the same and the state of this a most notable production.

The following week Mr. Bishop will again shine as a producer of a play by a local author. This time it is a genuine Californian play entitled "Before the Gringoes Came," and the author is Harry D. ("ottrell, who has already several success of this credit.

No minager in this State has been as successful as Mr. Bishop in producing plays as is actested by the success of "Mizpah," "The Light Eternal." "The Sea Welf," "The Light Eternal." "The Sea Welf," "The arts of Tennessee," and "Juanita of San Juan," and his accepting the producing shorts.

MAETERLINCK PLAY.

MAETERLINCK PLAY.

All the students of modern literature will be delighted to learn that Constance Crawley and her excellent Company are to give us a performance of one of the wonderful plays by the Belgian master, Musrice Maeterlinck. The play is "Pellias and Melisande." which is considered by the leading critics of the world 19 be the greatest love drama written since "Romeo and Juliet." Few actresses living would dare attempt the murvelously difficult role. A few years ago Mrs. Patrick Campbell and Sara Bernhardt appeared together in this play, the great Frenchwoman assuming the leading mais tole. The ferformance created a vertiable sensation in London. Sometime atternward Mrs. Crawley played the part of "Melisande" and received even better notices than the popular "Mrs. Pat" as London calls her.

The performance will be given at Ye Liberty Playhouss next Friday afternoon at three o'clock. The cast will be a very strong one for all the Crawley players are finished artists. Sents will be ready at the box office from $1 down to 25 cents.

COL. W. L. SPENCER SPEAKS ON PURE FOOD

Seated in his "Quick Meal" Lunch Room at 422 Seventh street, yester-day, Colonel W. L. Spencer, the jovial and rotund bon vivant, remarked to a TRIBUNE representative that he owes his success to giving his patrons pure tood. "I will guarantee every drop of milk, tea and coffee that I serve to my patrons and also other foodstuffs my patrons and also other foodstuffs that my customers consume are the best to be had. My eggs come in here warm from the chicken house and I have a special egg cook who prepares them to the queen's tasts. That's why I utilize so many eggs every cay." Just then a haif dozen patrons presented themselves to be served with Spencer's eggs and a cup of his pure coffee or milk. It's no wonder this favorite place is crowded day and evening. You get the best of edibles and at popular get the best of edibles and at popular prices too and it's put before you so quick it actually will surprise you.

OAKLAND SHIPPING GREATLY INCREASED.

Shipit & in Oakland is increasing to such an extent that beguny Collector of the Port A. Holly acod, who is in charge of the subspert Cluston House here, wants help. Becare the shighing entries at Oakland harbor averaged throp a mentile. Since the the they fire the shiping onties at Oukland harbor averaged this of a month. Since the fire they have been from seventy-five to eighty a month. On this account Mr. Hollywood has asked W. B. Hamilton, acting Collector of the Port, to make Oakland a Class L sub-port and to give him more men. Goods are conting so fost that they cannot be unbaded or handled with the ore labour and one inspector furnished for the work.

There is danger of a serious blockade, as merchants and delayed for days at a time obtaining their goods. A bounded was house also is necessary. The Southern Pactic also is asking the government on eat in the intition, as this company hav many cars on the mole and in the viscality of Oakland that cannot be unloaded on account of the lock of Custom House help. Large amounts of durable grows are on the way to Oakland, with no prospect of the force at Hollywood's disposal being able to handle them.

More room as well as help is needed. The examination room is too sin, I suid a large appraiser's room is needed. Hollywood wants uncanding or merchants, an assistant weigher, an opener, a packer, two inspectors.

Peptury Collector N. S. Farley has been sent to Oakland to investinate conditions and to weigner, an opener, in passet, on hisjectors and two laborers.

Deputy Collector N. S. Farley has been sent to Oskiand to investigate conditions and toport to the Treasury Department at Washinston. To formish help from the Custom House in San Francisco will be almost impossible, as reen are very scarce. The force here is too small to bandle the imports, which are the largest in the history of the city, and the Treasury Department has been assent to authorize the employment of additional help.
